Dear xxxxxxxxxxxx

Providing you with best-in-class products and services means regularly reviewing our portfolio, as it helps us innovate and improve our offering. As part of this review, we've decided to transfer all Demon Web Hosting and Domain products to intY Limited.

This change will take place on 31 March 2015 and won't affect your Demon broadband service. We're contacting you now, as you currently have access to one or more of the products we'll be transferring.

What is intY Limited?

intY Limited is an expert in cloud-based applications, products and services. An established, global IT company, it's been a trusted supplier of Demon products and services for over eight years.

What happens next?

From the 1 April 2015 onwards, your existing service for Demon Web Hosting and Domain products will transfer automatically to intY Limited for at least 60 days. There'll be no interruption in service.

If you wish to continue using your transferred services after this initial 60-day period, you will be able to take advantage of special offers from intY's Domains and Web Hosting partner, names.co.uk, who will be writing to you shortly with details.

Need some help?

You'll find answers to questions about these service changes on the Demon help page

We'd like to thank you for using Demon services. We're confident intY Limited, in association with names.co.uk, will continue to meet your future Web Hosting and Domain needs.
